

*THE INTEGRATIVE SOUND & MUSIC INSTITUTE (SMI)
CERTIFICATE PROGRAM - FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS*

How will participants learn online?

The classes are interactive, not strictly lecture webinars. Students will have a direct connection with teachers and develop community with their peers

Who should take this training?

This training is designed for anyone who has a strong interest in learning about the transformative power of music and sound.

Especially beneficial for: Music therapists, sound therapists, sound engineers, psychologists, clinicians, educators, those in the healing arts, yoga teachers, body workers, spiritual seekers, researchers, hospice workers, healthcare professionals, music thanatologists, music and health educators, vocalists, musicians of all levels.

Anyone interested in the voice, the qualitative effects of sound, psycho-acoustics, or the effective quality of sound, No previous experience in music, sound healing or in any of the aforementioned fields is required in order to apply.

Will there be homework and exams?

Midterm project and a final capstone project and optional assignments

What supplies will I need?

Nothing, any instruments students become interested in they can buy but it is not required.

I completed the Training, now what? What can I do with this certificate of completion?

Health center, work with sound in different modalities, research, sound yoga studios, add to your own healing practice, introduced to many modalities to combine into your own professional sound practice.

With a certificate, students are better equipped to serve as practitioners, specialists, volunteers, interns or even as members of a multidisciplinary treatment team within a health center or a community agency, as well as in a private healing or counseling practice and in creative performance

Among the many clinical and wellness settings where there is a growing need for people with a background in sound and music healing are:

- Psychiatric Hospitals
- Rehabilitation Facilities
- Mental Health Clinics
- Outpatient Facilities
- Substance Abuse Programs
- Correctional Institutions
- Hospice Programs
- Geriatric Centers
- Children's Health Centers
- Facilities for People with Developmental Disabilities
- Bodywork Clinics
- Yoga Studios
- Acupuncture and Alternative Medicine Centers
- Ecology Centers/Organizations for Sustainability

4 corners of the program:

1. Psycho acoustics and sound, how sound works
2. Shamanic cosmic aspect of sound
3. Therapeutic aspects of sound
4. Creative aspect